BAND STORY

I guess this is where I tell you about all the interesting stuff about myself. Well to be honest there is not an awful lot to tell really. Most of my time is spent being the househusband and looking after my three daughters, while my wife works as a civil servant. and other than that I'm working on what music swims through my head. I Co_own a small single room studio here on the Isle of Wight and a few little related sidelines. My musical background is somewhat eclectic from playing trumpet in a marching band as a youngster to playing Lead guitar in a Trad Jazz band. Now days I tend to work in and with rock bands. from writing material and producing to recording and perform live.(sometimes I may even front the band on vocals.)

I play a host of instruments including Guitar, Bass, Keyboards and Trumpet.(to name a few.)

I am currently teaching myself to play drums.(Recordings coming soon as and when they are good enough to use.)

I suppose my biggest dream is not so much to be famous but to perform to a stadium/festival sized Crowd.

And musicaly I would most like to have the chance to do full orchestral arrangements of some of my songs.

LATEST NEWS

Jammshank Radio

My Company Jammshank Productions is in the process of setting up an internet radio station. My main aim is to offer a new platform for getting unsigned music to the masses. I have been on IMW for a couple of years or so and find the quality of artist here to be of a high standard. And would love to play any artists material that gave permission. The launch will be in late June.(earlier if a the set list grows quick enough.) we will also be looking at doing interviews and where logistically possible so live sessions.(UK based station.) I hope this is of interest to you. Stuart.

Bassplayer needed now

Im recording a track for submission for a film and desperate for someone to play bass on it any offers?
