

BAND STORY

i am a single parent of a 15 yo son....enough said on that other than he is trying to learn guitar.....i have a wonderful girlfreind, her name is chris, and supports my music fully and sometimes kicks my * to play! lol i am 41 now, experiencing health issues from a past that caught up to me, it sux.

but, i am here now and playing some, and i hope you all enjoy my warped sense of playing. i have been blessed to have my music (and letting me play on theirs) graced by wonderful players. earl mackey, bob (old bassist), alex, shannon, dusty, lance, and not to forget at all, gary burris, who is a talent that just amazes me.john crafton is another artist i have been listening to, whew! some story teller! as far as what i play, ibanez guitar 320 model, a kramer focus 3000 i rebuilt and painted, a lyon bass, casio keyboard, boss 770 drum machine (when needed) a b-52 tube head and peavey 4x12 with a pod 2.0 (for now) it gets my older sound.

remember kids, it is all a labor of love, and if you love music, truly love music, it is worth it in the end, by the time you get to the end, if you can still play it with emotion that you put into it, checkmate! you won!

peace mav
